The center of Marbella has always been Puerto Banus. This region has long been regarded as Spain's center of luxury and glitz because it is situated in the center of the Costa del Sol's most opulent town.

The neighborhood's residents live in the commercial section of the promenade, which has one of the best marinas on the Spanish coast. The most coveted homes are found here, situated in completely private residential areas and guarded by the best security measures.

With a privileged waterfront location, this neighbourhood boasts some of the best beaches on the Spanish coast. The beaches are well equipped for bathing and leisure, with multiple beach clubs and glamorous restaurants where you can dine overlooking the sea.
